

School of Law

Bachelor of Law
ETE - May 2023

Time : 3 Hours

Marks : 50

Sem X - BALB5029 - Comparative Constitution

Your answer should be specific to the question asked

Draw neat labeled diagrams wherever necessary

1. Marbury v. Madison K1 CO1 (2)
2. Under liberal constitutionalism _____.
a) it is assumed that the purpose of a constitution is to protect rights and limit government
b) any provision that has the status of higher or fundamental law has constitutional status
c) the focus is on the total composition, shape, or form of a state
d) the values of conservative citizens are given less respect and protection K2 CO2 (2)
3. Formal methods of amending Indian Constitution do not capture all ways by which our constitutional understandings change because _____.
a.) prevailing understandings of what the Constitution means have undergone many transformations throughout American history even without constitutional amendments b.) Article 368 makes it too difficult to formally amend the Constitution
c.) the text of the Constitution has been changed even without formal amendment
d.) originalism as a method of interpretation permits adaptations of meaning in light of changing circumstances K3 CO3 (2)
4. When constitutions promote _____ they facilitate private investment, the management of public debt, and the reassurance of vulnerable constituencies. K3 CO4 (2)
a. compromise
b. national aspirations
c. the empowerment of public officials
d. credible commitments
5. Explain Confederation Federation form of Governments. K4 CO5 (2)
6. Describe in detail the Residuary powers of Federal Government in India. K3 CO1 (5)
7. Analyze the significance Indian federal form of Government on the premise of the constitutional concept of division of power. K4 CO2 (5)
8. K6 CO6 (6)
Indian women are very brave to sacrifice anything to establish her rights. Nangeli's story we discussed in the class is a classical example that throw light on Indian women's courage to seek for their rights. Comment.
9. How has the Election process got evolved in India to affirm the political rights of Indian Citizens. Discuss with any two relevant court cases. K4 CO3 (8)
10. Do judges make Law? Critically evaluate the status in India, USA and UK. K5 CO4 (8)
11. "Judicial review is the axe of the judiciary to cut the extra power grown on the Sovereign agencies". Analytically explain it with special reference to the contribution of Judicial Review in India. K6 CO5 (8)